Library App Now Available!

The Alamance County Public Libraries (ACPL) is proud to be able to offer a new way for the Alamance County Community to discover the library! Our new app is available now for android or iPhones. Renew your books, search the catalog, check the hours, print wirelessly, and more from any handheld device.

“We are excited to be able to offer new and easier opportunities for our community to access the library!” Susana Goldman, Director of the Alamance County Public Libraries said. “The app should provide a much easier interface to anyone interested in accessing the library from their devices or on the go. It is user friendly and should help us connect to the community in a completely new way.”

Search your app stores for Alamance to download the app or use on the provided direct links. Sign up for any library alerts you might be interested in and be ready to enter your library card information. From there you can request your books, see your holds, sign up for a card, and see some of the great services you didn't know the library offered!
